Now READTS No. 1. THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.

It contains the famous Speech of Mr. Saward at Rochester, in which he pointed out the fact of the Irrepressible Conflict; the equally famous speech of Mr. O'Conor at the Academy of Music, tontending that Negro Slavery is not unjust; Mr. O'Conor's recomi letter to certain New-York merchants on the same subject; and a brief collection of the opinions of eminent men with DEMOCRATIC LEADERS FOR DISUNION.

The recent powerful Speech of Senator Wilson of Massachn's etts, in which the fact is demonstrated that the Disunion Movement, begun thirty years ago by Mr. Calhoun, has at last obtained the control of all the most influential leaders of the so-called Democratic party. This is proved by quotations from their own deplarations, given in their own language, and forming an array of testimony which cannot be disputed.

Physical Degeneration in Nursing the Sick Little Understood.

From The Beston Corrier.

"If any one can speak ex-cathedra on the subject, it must be this gentie patron sant of nurses and nursing—this heroine of the Scutari hospitals. Apart from the practical value, the book is a strangely interesting one, bringing to mind, as it does, the long and tedious task which the author assumed, and which, with so memorable devotion, she discharged. Good sense, quickened by a kindig heart, is apparent in the hints and directions comprising the notes. Many items of valuable pratical information are scattered throughout the volume, and we think it night be profitably read by many others beside the class to whom it is specifically addressed."

"Miss Nightingale now has a world-wide fame, by such heroic self-devotion as has not been paralleled in our day, and now the world is reedy to listen to her warning and advice as to the treatment of the sick."
